Trading in the financial instruments of the Issuer or in derivatives or other financial instruments linked to them while possessing Privileged Information, as defined in Art. 1 of this Code of Conduct on the subject of Internal Dealing (the “Code”), constitutes the crime of insider trading.

This does not mean that all transactions entered into have a criminal nature because it is quite possible that individuals who are close to the company may deal in Financial Instruments (as defined in Art. 3 of this Code) while having a deep knowledge of its future destiny: if one has any doubt as to whether or not one holds any Privileged Information, the Company strongly recommends persons not to engage in any dealing.

This Code is based on the assumption that such deals entered into are legitimate and that they are not the result of criminal use of Privileged Information; disclosure of such deals – where required – does not exempt the person concerned from any possible sanctions should he or she have acted while in possession of Privileged Information.

Although the persons recorded on the list of persons who have access to Privileged Information (the Insider List) are not required to make the notification (the exclusive obligation of relevant persons and those closely associated with them for the purposes of internal dealing), they must nonetheless be aware that the fact that they are on the list means that they have at least certain information that the Company considers to be Privileged Information. As long as this information has not been disclosed to the market, any dealing by them in the Financial Instruments could be subject to investigation and sanctions even of a criminal nature.

This Code was approved by the Board of Directors of the Company on July 29 2016 and was subsequently amended on July 27 2018 and February 7 2025, in compliance with EU Regulation no. 596/2014 (“MAR”), EU Commission Implementing Regulation 2016/523 and EU Commission Delegated Regulation 2016/522. This Code replaces the previous Code adopted by the Company as from April 1 2006.

Part I - Definitions

Art. 1 - Privileged Information

For the purposes of this Code and pursuant to Article 7 of MAR, “privileged information” means information of a precise nature that has not been made public and which either directly or indirectly concerns the Company or one or more financial instruments of the same Company, and which, if disclosed to the public, could have a significant effect on the prices of the said financial instruments or on the prices of related financial derivative instruments (the “Privileged Information”).

Information is of a “precise nature”, according to the terms and as an effect of Article 7, paragraph 2 of MAR, if it refers to a set of circumstances that exist or which are reasonably likely to exist or to an event that has occurred or which is reasonably likely to take place and if such information is sufficiently specific to enable conclusions to be drawn as to the possible effect of the said set of circumstances or of the said event on the prices of financial instruments or the relative financial derivative instruments.

On this subject it should be noted that in the case of a longer process deferred over time which aims to achieve, or which determines, a particular circumstance or a particular event, this future circumstance or future event, as well as the intermediate stages of the said process that are related to the realization or to the determination of the circumstance or the future event, can be considered as information of a precise nature.

An intermediate stage of a longer process is considered to be Privileged Information if it meets the criteria established in Art. 7 of MAR and referred to in this article.

“Information which, if disclosed to the public, would probably have a significant effect on the prices of the financial instruments, of the derivative financial instruments, of the spot contracts on related commodities (...)” is understood to mean information that investors might reasonably use as one of the elements on which to base their investment decisions.

Art. 2 - Issuer of Financial Instruments

The Issuer of Financial Instruments means CIR S.p.A. (the “Company/Issuer”).

Art. 3 - Financial Instruments

For the purposes of this Code, Financial Instruments issued by the Company means the following:

- (a) Shares
- (b) Debt instruments
- (c) Derivatives
- (d) Financial instruments associated with the instruments in points (a) and (b) above, as defined in Art.3, paragraph 2, letter b) of MAR.

Art. 4 - Relevant Persons

4.1 For the purposes of this Code, Relevant Persons are:

- The members of the Board of Directors of CIR S.p.A.
- The members in office of the Board of Statutory Auditors of CIR S.p.A.
- The General Manager and the Executive responsible for the preparation of the Company's financial statements, as per the terms of Art. 154 bis of the Consolidation Act, of CIR S.p.A.
- Any other senior executives, as identified by the Chief Executive Officer, who although they are not members of the company bodies mentioned above, have regular access to Privileged Information that either directly or indirectly concerns the Company and who have the power to take management decisions that could affect the future evolution and the prospects of the Issuer.

Art. 5 - Persons closely associated with the Relevant Persons

5.1 The persons belonging to the following categories are considered to be Persons closely associated with the Relevant Persons (the "Persons Closely Associated") for the purposes of this Code:

- (a) The spouse or partner considered to be equivalent to a spouse by national law;
- (b) Dependent children according to national law
- (c) Relatives who have shared the same household for at least one year on the date of the transaction subject to notification
- (d) Legal persons, trusts or partnerships in which managerial responsibilities are discharged by a Relevant Person or by a closely associated person belonging to categories (a), (b) or (c) above, or one that is directly or indirectly controlled such a person, which is set up for the benefit of such a person, or the economic interests of which are substantially equivalent to those of such a person.

5.2 Relevant Persons are required to inform Persons Closely Associated with them in writing of the conditions, procedures and terms based on which they are required to respect the legal and regulatory obligations relating to and/or resulting from entering into the Relevant Transactions, as well as compliance with this Code. The Relevant Persons must keep a copy of the afore-mentioned notification. Each Relevant Person must provide the Company with the List of Persons closely associated with the same Relevant Person by sending the letter referred to in Annex C to this Code and must also promptly inform the Company of any changes in the said list, by means of a special declaration signed and delivered to the Person Responsible.

Art. 6- Transactions to be notified

Each of the Relevant Persons and the Persons Closely Associated must notify the Company and Consob – if necessary through the Company, according to the terms and conditions set out in Part II below – of any transaction that they enter into in financial instruments ("Relevant Transactions"). An illustrative and non-exhaustive list of Relevant Transactions is given in Annex A to this Code.

Relevant Transactions for amounts below the thresholds established by the rules applicable or those that are exempt under the terms of the MAR, the TUF and/or their respective implementation rules are not notifiable.

Art. 7 – Functions of the Person Responsible on the subject of Internal Dealing

7.1 The “Corporate Secretariat” Department of the Company carries out the functions of the Person Responsible.

7.2 The Person Responsible has been assigned the following functions:

- (a) Receiving the information notified by Relevant Persons as per the terms of this Code;
- (b) Managing the information received by Relevant Persons as per the terms of this Code: this management includes keeping files of the documentation received or transmitted pursuant to the Code needed to comply correctly with the disclosure obligations to the general public and to Consob, where applicable;
- (c) Disclosing information to the general public and, when required by the Relevant Person, to Consob (prior to possibly a specific power of attorney to the Issuer using the template in Annex D) and making it available on the Company website;
- (d) Informing the Relevant Persons of the adoption of the Code and of any amendments and supplements made to it, ensuring that the Relevant Persons return to the Company the letter in Annex B of this Code within 7 calendar days of receiving the information;
- (e) Keeping the list of Relevant Persons and Persons Closely Associated with them updated, as identified on the basis of the letter in Annex B.

7.3 Any notifications made to the Person Responsible as per the terms and effects of this Code must be sent to the attention of the “Corporate Secretariat” Department at the following e-mail address: segreteria@societaria@cirgroup.com.

Part II - Information obligations of Relevant Persons and Persons closely associated with Relevant Persons

Art. 8 - Notification obligations

8.1 In order to comply with their respective notification obligations, Relevant Persons and the Persons closely associated with the same must inform the Company and Consob of any Relevant Transactions effected by them or on their behalf in the Financial Instruments no later than 3 (three) working days following the date of execution of the Relevant Transaction (the "Relevant Transaction Date"), in the manner indicated in article 9 below.

8.2 For transactions effected on the Stock Exchange or similar transactions, the Relevant Transaction Date means the date of execution of the order on the market and not the subsequent order settlement date. For operations linked to incentive plans based on CIR shares issued by the Company, the Relevant Transaction Date means the date on which the beneficiary acquires ownership title of the CIR shares, i.e. the value date indicated on the subscription form. For operations carried out in the context of public tender offers, the Relevant Transaction Date means the settlement date of the public offer.

It should be noted that even Relevant Transactions effected independently by asset managers under a general mandate are included in the notification obligations. Therefore, Relevant Persons must inform each of their asset managers in writing stating that they must be informed promptly of any transactions in the Financial Instruments so that they can in their turn make the notification as stated in Art. 8.1, or, if applicable, in Art. 8.4.

8.3 Relevant Persons may request the Company to directly notify Consob of the Relevant Transactions on their behalf. However, in such cases, Relevant Persons must first sign and send the proxy form provided in Annex D, and then notify the Company of the Relevant Transactions carried out by them or by persons closely connected to them, by completing, signing, and submitting the notification form in Annex C, no later than the first business day following the date of the Relevant Transaction, addressed to the Person Responsible, using the procedures set forth in this Code. In such cases, the Company will fulfill the notification obligation to Consob on behalf of the Relevant Persons, as specified in this article, no later than 3 (three) business days following the date of the Relevant Transaction, by transmitting the information received from the Relevant Person in accordance with the applicable legal and regulatory provisions.

8.4 The publication of Relevant Transactions carried out by Relevant Persons ~~that have been~~ notified to the Company in compliance with the terms and procedures set out in this Code is carried out on behalf of the Company by the Responsible Person, by publishing the notification form on the authorized storage mechanism and on the Company's website, no later than two working days following the receipt of the communication referred to in Article 8.1.

Art. 9 - Terms and conditions for the notification

9.1 The notification to the Company described in Art. 8.1 and 8.3 above is sent, within the terms set out therein, to the Person Responsible at the e-mail address segreteria@societaria@cirgroup.com, by sending the notification form in the format required by EU Regulation 2016/523 referred to in Annex C to the Code.

In any case, the notifying person must keep proof of having sent the e-mail to the Person Responsible 9.2 The disclosure to Consob of Relevant Transactions is made by the Relevant Persons (or by the Company on their behalf in the cases referred to in the Art. 8.4) by sending the template given in Annex C of the Code, complete with all the information contained therein, by certified e-mail (PEC) to the following address: consob@pec.consob.it (if the sender has obligation to have the PEC system) or by e-mail to protocollo@consob.it, specifying as the recipient “Ufficio Informazione Mercati” (Market Information Office) and as the subject “MAR Internal Dealing”, being understood that responsibility for the communications rests with the Relevant Person.

Part III - Blocking period

Art. 10 - Freeze on transactions

10.1 All the Relevant Persons and all the executives of the Company and its subsidiaries that benefit from the stock-base incentive plans of CIR S.p.A. undertake not to enter into or to let any Persons Closely Associated with them enter into (even through a third party) any transactions in the Financial Instruments in the 30 calendar days preceding the date of the board meeting in which the financial statement data or interim management reports (or other comparable period accounting situations) are approved, that the Company is required to, or has previously decided and/or announced to, disclose (the “Blocking Period”).

10.2 The Relevant Persons and all the executives of the Company and subsidiaries who are beneficiaries of stock-base incentive plans of CIR S.p.A. will be informed by the Company Secretariat, in reasonable advance with respect to the start of the 30 day period preceding the dates scheduled for the Board of Directors Meetings as above.

10.3 The above blocking periods will terminate with the publication of the press releases that disclose the information described above to the public.

10.4 The issuer can allow the Relevant Persons to trade on their own account or on behalf of third parties during a blocking period:

- a) on a case-by-case basis when there are of exceptional circumstances, such as severe financial difficulty, which require the immediate sale of shares; or
- b) on the strength of the characteristics of the trade involved in the event of transactions made under, or related to, an employee share or saving scheme, qualification or entitlement of shares, or transactions where the beneficial interest in the relevant security does not change, in both cases in according to and in compliance with Art. 19, paragraph 12 of EU Reg. 596/2014 and EU Delegated Reg. 522/2016, paragraphs 7, 8 and 9.

10.5 For the individuals listed in paragraph 1, other than Relevant Persons, who have been included at the discretion of the Issuer in the list of those who must observe the blocking period, the prohibition does not apply to the exercise of rights assigned by the stock-base incentive plans of the Company. It remains understood, however, that it is absolutely forbidden to enter into any other transaction in the financial instruments underlying the options during the above blackout periods.

Part IV - Final instructions

Art. 11 - Legal reference

For any other matters not specifically stated in this Code, explicit reference should be made to the regulations in force at any one time.

Art. 12 - Use of personal information

For the purposes of this Code, the Company may be required to use certain items of personal information of the Relevant Persons, the Relevant Shareholders and the Persons closely associated with them. These Persons must give their consent to the use of their respective personal details by the Company or by department heads and/or persons designated by the same company, in accordance with the terms of D.Lgs 196/2003 and subsequent amendments, being aware, as per the terms of this Procedure, of the rights set out in Art. 7 of D.Lgs 196/2003 and of the following:

- a) The information collected will be used in hard copy form or in electronic form exclusively for the purposes of fulfilling the obligations required by legislation in force at any one time;
- b) It is obligatory to give the said personal information;
- c) The persons or the categories of persons to whom the information may be passed and the scope of use of the said information;
- d) The holder of the information and the person in charge.

With the delivery to the Person Responsible of the letter accepting having been identified as a Relevant Person and containing the information referred to in points a) to d) above, consent is understood as having been given validly as per and for the purposes of D.Lgs 196/2003.

Art. 13 – Sanctions

Without prejudice to the sanctions stipulated in current regulations on the subject of the abuse of Privileged (or Insider) Information and market manipulation, the terms of the Code are an integral part of the contractual obligations entered into by the Relevant Persons.

Employees who do not observe the Code will be further sanctioned, pursuant to the terms of the Law and of the National Collective Employment Contract, as this constitutes serious negligence in their relations with the Company. For persons who are not employees of the Company - without prejudice to the Company's right to claim compensation for damages even to its reputation - the Company reserves the right to terminate the relationship even without notice.

Moreover, the abuse of Privileged Information, illegally passing on Privileged Information and manipulating the market lead to the configuration, against those who have committed the deed, of an offence subject to criminal and administrative sanctions, but also make the Company administratively liable even as per, inter alia, the terms of D.Lgs. n. 231/01.

Art. 14 - Amendments and additions to the Code

The Chief Executive Office of the Company is authorized to make any amendments or additions to the Code that should prove necessary or appropriate to bring its content into line with European or national legislation or regulations in force at any one time.
